

YOUR BI-MONTHLY RESOURCE FOR PALM OIL GROWN FOR GOOD

IN THE NEWS #SAYITONTHEWRAPPER

Our #sayitonthewrappercampaign is a call to action to stop hiding palm oil use behind unclear ingredient names, instead to have transparent communication about palm oil. The campaign also supports our partners who are having an open conversation with consumers about why they have chosen to use sustainable palm oil in their products.

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT

WHOLLY WHOLESOME

At Wholly Wholesome & Wholly Gluten Free, our mission is a simple one: to make food that's worth eating. This means selecting clean and natural ingredients, refining recipes until they are not "good enough," but GREAT, and creating products that don't just fill bellies, but real human needs. We're committed to making things the right way, even if it's the long way. Most of all, what we make has to be delicious, because we understand that those looking for natural, organic, vegan, and allergy-friendly food deserve to demand as high a standard for taste as they do for ingredients. This isn't just a line in the sand – it's food on your family's table, and we're willing to go the extra mile to make sure it's done right.

"Doing it right' is important to us and we take pride in going the extra mile to make food worth eating, without compromises, for our customers. Once we were introduced to Palm Done Right, and learned how they are doing the same for animals, habitats and communities where they harvest palm oil, our need for partnership was undeniable," explains President Doon Wintz. "We're proud to partner with Palm Done Right, as they work to provide manufacturers like us a simple solution with great impact, eliminating the need to use conflict palm oil."

FARMER STORY

ELIMINATING BARRIERS FOR PROGRESS

MEET SEBASTIAN ROJAS: As a farmer liaison, he's in the fields every day visiting and educating our farmers on organic and sustainable farming practices. It's a collaboration requiring trust and involvement from our farmers so they can innovate and take full advantage of the farms' value. LEARN MORE >

SEPTEMBER IS

PALM DONE RIGHT MONTH

Our third annual Palm Done Right Month kicks off in September. There are over 30 organic and natural food brands and 50 retailers that have joined our mission, and are helping to spread the message. Sign up today to join the movement and be a part of the solution by supporting the brands and retailers who advocate for growing palm the right way. SIGN UP TODAY >

WORTHY OF SHARING

PALM DONE RIGHT FARMERS grow according to organic practices, either by reconditioning degraded land (often from old clear cut forests converted into crops or pastures) or by transitioning existing, conventional palm farms to organic. SEE THE INSTAGRAM POST >

2 PALM DONE RIGHT PACHA SOAP For every bar of soap purchased online, Pacha donates a bar to communities in need across America. Pacha also provides hand sanitizer to hospitals, nursing homes and other institutions. SEE THE INSTAGRAM POST >
