

YOUR RESOURCE FOR
PALM OIL GROWN FOR GOOD

JOIN US IN MAKING A
CLEAN CANDLE COMMITMENT

Did you know wax is the largest component of candles and is the fuel that allows them to burn?

Globally, more than 75% of candles are made using paraffin wax, a non-renewable byproduct of the petroleum industry. However, a growing number of brands are switching to more natural and sustainable waxes, like our Organic Palm Wax, to replace the use of paraffin.

As consumers, you have the ability to make a difference in the candle industry, and reward good practices, by making the CLEAN CANDLE COMMITMENT in two ways:

COMMIT TO CHOOSING:

Make a commitment to consciously choose candles made with clean and sustainable wax, wicks, and fragrances.

COMMIT TO LEARNING:

Make a commitment to learn about the harmful implications of the candles you might currently buy, and how switching to clean and sustainable candles positively impacts your health and the environment.

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT
Way Out Wax

Since 1992, Way Out Wax has been committed to bringing light into the world. They've been on a journey to create the world's purest and most true-to-nature candles for over twenty years and they're more inspired than ever to continue innovating and honoring the planet. Instead of coal-based dyes and petrochemical fragrances, they use natural vegetable waxes and aromas derived solely from plants.

"As we sit at this moment in human history, we feel the urgency in looking at how we source and what we source. People are increasingly recognizing the value in organic food, toxin-free cosmetics and conscious supply chains and we think it's time to pull the curtain back on candle ingredients. Everyone deserves the opportunity to know what's inside their candle, how it was made and how it impacts the earth.

Having a partner like Palm Done Right allows us to confidently build a new model for truly sustainable candles - with 100% ingredient transparency and proof that if everyone cares along the way, you can deliver something you can really feel good about." Anna Barrett, Owner, Way Out Wax READ MORE >
